WE RETURNED HIS MONEY.

For the first time in a good many months we have been obliged to return a customer's money because of unsatisfactory work. The watch was worn out, we were unable to make it run as it should, and willingly gave back all he had paid us. He was so well satisfied with our treatment that he bought a new one before leaving the store. We guarantee Satisfaction in all our work.

CITY AND VICINITY.

N. Ortman, of Hamilton, has sold his blacksmith shop to Mr. Crandal of this city.

Rev. M. Van Vessen of Overisel declined the call of the Christian Reformed church at Crisp, Mich.

The Hon. Frank W. Walt of Sturgis has been appointed United States marshal for the western district of Michigan by President Roosevelt. He is one of the heavyweights of the party of this state.

The coal problem is likely to become a serious one in Allegan before spring. Four weeks ago a car of Pocahontas was shipped to Schuler & Born but has not yet arrived. Since then three other cars have been shipped to the same firm and are still on the way.—Allegan Gazette.

The sum of $11,144.21 was spent in the construction of lateral sewers in this city last summer and of this amount the city of Holland at large pays one-sixth of the cost, or $1,857.40 and the balance of $9,286.81 is raised by special assessment on the property adjacent and benefited.

Ottawa county educators under the leadership of Professor Sellers of the Spring Lake schools, are taking up the matter of centralizing the district schools of the county so as to permit of one graded school in each township. It is very likely that the plan will be experimented with in Spring Lake township the coming school year.

The residence of William Palmer of Fennville was destroyed by fire last Friday evening together with the entire contents. There is no insurance on the property. The case is particularly sad as Mr. Palmer has a wife and four small children, and not a cent left. He had bought the property on contract and had the amount all paid but $25.

As Otto Van Dyke, an employee of the Walsh DeRoo Mills was on his way to the mill last Saturday morning he discovered an old man in a half frozen condition lying in front of Moenaar & DeGoede's grocery store.

Upon taking the benumbed man to the engine room of the mill, where he was warmed, he was found to be Thomas Willey of Hamilton. Willey claimed he had fallen the previous night spraining his ankle and being unable to help himself he laid on the street all night. He was very scantily clad, and suffered badly from the exposure. He wore heavy mittens and felt boots with rubbers, the only thing that saved him from being frost bitten. His appearance showed that he was practically destitute, and Marshal Kamferbeek, who was at once notified, provided him with a warm breakfast. Willey is 62 years of age and has no family. He earns his living by working for farmers during the summer and spends the winter cutting wood. Willey said he had been in Holland three days with a family named Brown. It is thought he might have been slightly under the influence of liquor Friday night but he had no money on his person when found. At his suggestion Marshal Kamferbeek notified Ben Harmsen of Hamilton, who recently employed Willey and who later in the day arrived to take Willey along with him.

The annual pew renting in the Third Reformed church will take place next Monday evening, February 2.

John Meeboer, the tailor, is an expert maker of men's fine clothes. He has a reputation in neatly doing repair and pressing work.

Rev. A. Oltmans, missionary of the Reformed church to China, will leave for Chicago the first week of February to take a short course in a few special studies.

The comparatively warm weather we have had thus far is beneficial to wild game and local hunters are rejoicing over the prospects of the coming hunting season. Next season especially promises an abundance of quail.

The closing of our stores at 6 o'clock each evening of the week except Tuesday and Saturday no doubts says the business men from a request of their employees for a half holiday. At Grand Haven the business men are discussing the establishment of the Saturday half holiday. It is possible that the system will be given a trial the coming summer.

It is probable that Battle Creek will throw aside all past antagonism and at its spring election vote for a $25,000 courthouse. The board of supervisors have decided to submit the question to a vote of the people and as the general opinion is that a courthouse is absolutely needed for the safety of the county documents, it is quite likely that one will be built.

John Schuurman, son-in-law of Philip Heyboer, of Noordeloos, died last Monday morning at the home of Mr. Heyboer. The deceased was 25 years of age and had been ill since New Year's with typhoid fever. Before Schuurman became sick he was a student at the Veterinary college of Grand Rapids. He came home on New Year's when he was taken ill with a disease from which he never recovered.

It is very probable that Congressman Wm. Alden Smith will make formal announcement of his senatorship candidacy at a dinner to be given this evening by the Gridley club at Belding, Ionia. Mr. Smith will be one of the stars of this event. The speaker for the evening is Curtis Guild, Jr., lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, and one of the most distinguished orators of the East. Outside of possibly our own townsmen there is hardly anyone whom we would rather see elected senator from our district than William Alden Smith.

Cornelius Van Doorne, one of the pioneer Holland-American residents of Grand Haven township, died Tuesday afternoon at his home on the Beech Tree road after an illness of over a year. Stricken with paralysis about a year ago, he had been gradually failing since, and for some months it was known that his demise was but a question of a short time. He was nearly 61 years of age and had lived in this country ever since he was 9 years old. Mr. Van Doorne was one of the solid substantial men of the township and had a name for integrity and honesty. He held for a number of years the position of highway commissioner of Grand Haven township. The deceased is survived by a wife and a large family among whom is M. Van Dooren of this city, who is employed as a motorman on the Grand Rapids, Holland & Lake Michigan rapid railway.

The Grand Haven Tribune says: "They have a vigorous quarantine officer down in Holland. If a man tries to break through the lines from a quarantined house he stands guard with a club and threatens the man forcibly. Perhaps it is the only efficacious way." It seems from the following report that other towns are in need of as vigorous a quarantine officer: Sheriff Dykhuis was in Tallmadge looking after a resident of that town whose family was down with the smallpox, and who refused to stay in quarantine. The man in question is a Mr. Root who operates a small grist mill at Sand Creek. It is reported that several times he has left his house and gone to his mill despite the protest of his guard, who is paid by the township to look after his quarantine. The sheriff was called there last week on the same mission and this week he went to inform Mr. Root that unless he obeys the quarantine restrictions he will be vigorously prosecuted as soon as his family is well. The sheriff does not want to bring Root to the county jail as he has not had the smallpox. But he undoubtedly threw a scare into him that will make the man obey the quarantine rules.

Deputy Sheriff Arie Zanting of Holland is now in charge of the county stone pile.

Rev. A. W. De Jong of the Fourth Reformed church is one of the trio from which the Third Reformed church of Grand Rapids will select its pastor.

Last Friday evening the D. of R., I. O. C. F. initiated a class of ten candidates. The attendance was enlarged by visitors from Grand Rapids and Saugatuck. A fine supper was served and all had a splendid time.

Next Saturday, Jan. 31, is the limit for tax-payers to settle with City Treasurer Witterdink, all unpaid paid taxes after that date being carried over to the next year, with interest on the delinquent tax list.

The Ottawa county Republican convention will be held in the courthouse at Grand Haven Wednesday afternoon Feb. 18. The purpose of the convention will be to nominate a candidate for the county office; Commissioner of schools.

Another union is likely to be organized by the painters and paperhangers of this city. A meeting will be held on Feb. 3 in DeGrandwet hall. A delegation visited the Grand Rapids painters' and paperhangers' union this week to get some idea of the conduct of such an organization, and members of the Grand Rapids union are expected to attend the meeting here February 3 to aid in organizing the local union.

County Treasurer Woodsworth of Grand Rapids has cashed an order for Frank J. Fox, county treasurer of Ottawa county, for $5,475.16. This is the full bill as allowed by the board of supervisors for the trial of the Nichols case at Grand Haven. This is the highest single claim which has been paid as part of the regular expenses of the county for ten years or more. The Allegan county bill was $3,274.70.

Superintendent of schools F. D. Haddock and Prof. E. L. Norton of Hope college will address the Lake Shore Educational club which will hold a meeting in the Saugatuck high school Saturday, February 7. Prof. Haddock will speak about the relation between the rural school and the graded school, drawing, etc. Prof. Norton will discuss the question "How shall we equip our schools with better teachers?"

It does not seem that the Kent county supervisors were as well satisfied as Ottawa's supervisors with the management of their respective courthouses. While the supervisors of Ottawa county praised their courthouse officials, it was anticipated that the final session of Kent's supervisors would be livened up by the report of a committee appointed to investigate the charges preferred against Superintendent Cooper of the county building. The charges brought to the door of Cooper were suggested at a previous session of the board. It was claimed that the building was open nights when it was supposed to be closed for all purposes, and it was further alleged that several pass keys were in the hands of individuals who had no right to them. But Supervisor Hodges sent in a written communication to the board in which he stated that it was not his intention to lead any person to believe that the county building had been used for any immoral purposes. He did not further press his demand for the discharge of Cooper. A communication from Superintendent Cooper set up that 45 keys had been given out and that they were equally parceled between the various county offices and departments. As a final disposal of the troublesome communication from Superintendent Hodges the resolution was ordered placed in the files.

Strike Commission Listens to Evidence Given in Favor of the Operators.

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—The question of who is responsible for the apparent shortage in the supply of anthracite coal was the subject of considerable debate yesterday by the attorneys representing the parties before the strike commission. It was testified to that the miners are not obeying President Mitchell's request to make extra efforts to produce more coal to relieve the situation.

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—The independent operators of the upper coal fields began calling witnesses yesterday before the coal strike commission. There are about 30 of these companies before the commission.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—The anthracite coal strike commission continued to hear witnesses Saturday representing the independent coal companies.

Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—The attention of the anthracite coal strike commission was yesterday directed to the claims and charges of the independent operators, the first case presented being that of C. B. Markle & Co., whose collieries are located in and about Jeddo, in the Lehigh region. Ten witnesses for the company were examined.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—The G. B. Markle company continued the presentation of its case before the anthracite coal strike commission yesterday. It is probable that the independent operators will have concluded their cases by to-day. The reading company will follow and will occupy the attention of the commission during the remainder of the week.

TREATY IS SIGNED.

An Agreement Reached Between United States and Colombia and Panama Canal Can Be Built.

Washington, Jan. 23.—A treaty with Colombia providing for the construction of the Panama canal by the United States was signed yesterday in Washington. This determines the location of the interoceanic canal at that point on the isthmus and disposes of the Nicaragua canal, at least until the Panama canal has been given a fair chance. The treaty provides for the payment by the United States to Colombia of $10,000,000 in gold and a rental of $250,000 annually thereafter, after the expiration of nine years. The lease of a zone six miles wide for 100 years is granted. The United States has the right to send troops to protect its property in case Colombia cannot do so.

FIFTY WOMEN PERISH.

Insane Asylum Burns in London and Panke-Stricken Lunatics Die in Groups.

London, Jan. 28.—About 50 insane patients, all women, were burned to death at the Colney Hatch asylum yesterday morning. The fire broke out in the Jewish wing of the institution, and five wooden buildings, including the dormitories and the doctors' apartments, were destroyed. Nearly 600 women were in the annex when the fire was discovered, and most of them were safely transferred to the main building, which was uninjured. Some, however, escaped and are still at large, making it difficult to ascertain the exact number of those burned to death.

LAW THE ONLY CURE.

The "Get Coal" Convention in Washington Says Enforcement of the Statutes is All That Is Needed.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The "get coal" convention, after a day's session, adopted resolutions and adjourned. The resolutions announce that the enforcement of the present laws will correct existing evils; that the unlawful combinations will be dissolved, normal conditions restored and healthful competition revived, more abundant supplies be obtained, confidence be restored in official integrity and people saved humiliation resulting from lax enforcement of wholesome laws enacted for the common good and the general welfare of the whole people.

THROWN INTO A DITCH.

Train on the Chicago Great Western Road Wrecked in Illinois and Three Persons Are Killed.

Freeport, Ill., Jan. 23.—Limited express No. 1 of the Chicago Great Western railroad was wrecked near South Freeport at ten o'clock last night by spreading rails and the train was ditched and took fire. The engineer and fireman were killed, being buried beneath the locomotive. They were William Sheridan and F. Grace, both of Chicago. W. H. H. Day, a lumberman from Minnesota, died from injuries. Conductor Carr and Baggageman Neese and 20 passengers were injured, some of them seriously.

Earthquake Shocks.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 24.—Two distinct and almost immediate successive shocks of earthquake were felt here Friday night at 8:15 o'clock. Reports from Tybee island are that houses were very perceptibly shaken. A shock was also felt at Columbia, S. C.

Mountain Riven in Twain.

Mexico City, Jan. 26.—News has been received here of earthquake and volcanic disturbances near Urique, state of Chihuahua. Nentanana mountain has been riven in twain, and the atmosphere is filled with fine volcanic dust.

For the Week Ending Jan. 23.

Oberlin (O.) college chapel, seating 1,700 persons, was destroyed by fire. The southern California orange crop this year is a record breaker. The State bank of Verdigris, Neb., closed its doors with liabilities of $19,000.

EIGHBORING TOWNS.

West Olive.

Groundhog day should be observed by all banters this year.

C. B. Ingersoll was in Zealand on business Wednesday.

Ray Marble is ill with the measles, having been exposed in Agnew. He is convalescing.

The quarterly conference of the M. E. church will be held Saturday afternoon at the residence of Frank Bluns.

John Leland was in Grand Haven Wednesday with a load of coal.

Mrs. Alice Lent is suffering from a swollen face caused by coming in contact with poison ivy.

Pneumonia and babies are put to sleep in different manners.

F. N. Hopkins is confined at home with the rheumatism. This weather is very disagreeable.

Frank Garbrecht and L. Kamphuis passed Sunday at home. They are cutting wood in Allendale.

Our exchange says that the heaviest drinkers weigh the most.

A. Boyer is busy at work finishing the interior of M. Van Slooten's house.

Joe Wiser's new barn was completed by two Grand Haven carpenters last week.

Work was resumed on the new church Wednesday by laying the floor.

Chicago.

During the present week your Lake-town correspondent had the privilege of visiting the Union Stock yards and the famous Packing houses of this city. Some fifteen years have elapsed since my former visit, and the great improvements that had taken place since have kept pace with the city's progress. That locality is a city of itself surrounded by banks, publishing houses, commission houses, hotels, stores, etc. It would trespass on space to go into details but a few facts may be of interest to the many readers of the News. But few who have not visited this great stock center can realize that one third of the total annual livestock product of the United States is marketed in Chicago. The large packers seldom buy stock direct from the farmers but through the commission houses, similar to the produce commission houses who supply the wholesaler and retailer. As we pass through the main avenue of the stock yards to one of the large packing house plants we encounter droves of cattle driven by cowboys galloping hither and thither in regular western style. On the bulletin boards we note the days receipts to be 16,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs and 16,000 sheep, most of them being in fair condition for slaughter. The cattle not in condition is bought mostly by the farmers of Ohio and Indiana to be fattened and then shipped to the eastern markets. We soon saw an electric sign directing us to the reception room of one of the largest plants where we found a goodly number of farmers from adjoining states waiting for a uniformed guide to take them through the establishment where we witness the killing of hogs, the various steps, till they come out the finished product ready for market. A government inspector examines all stock coming into the yards and another is present at the time of slaughtering to condemn any diseased animal. The capacity of the plant is for the slaughter of hogs 600 per hour or at the rate of 3 1/2 minutes for each hog for complete dressing and for beef 30 minutes.

The non-edible parts such as horns, hoofs, hides, hair, blood, intestines etc., are all utilized in by-products so that nothing goes to waste except the "equal." The utmost cleanliness is observed in the handling of the carcass and of the different parts cut from it. In the moving of the various products from one building to another a miniature electric railway is employed and one of the largest electric power plants of the country can be found here.

FEEDING ANIMALS.

Never Let the Calf Lose Its Baby Fat, but Add to It.

There has been considerable said on the importance of making rations appetizing and suggestions made which would contribute to that end. Water makes a food taste better, makes it more enjoyable and increases its value. Early cut hay, for instance, is best not only because it contains more protein than that cut late, but because its aroma and flavor make it more palatable. It is not well to feed animals too much at one time, as they pick out the most desirable parts first and mess the other over, which detracts from its palatability and either entails loss of food or products, whereas feeding in different ways and less at a time would give better results from the same food. Mangers, feed troughs and racks should be kept clean both from a sanitary standpoint and in order to make the foods more appetizing and to have more of it eaten and thus get better results, says H. J. Patterson of the Maryland station.

Shelter, Comfort and Kindness.

There are three factors in the feeding of animals that are as much neglected as any other, and, in fact, many people have come to study the needs for making a "well balanced ration" and have entirely ignored these essentials. The attention to shelter, comfort and kindness for animals will save many a pound of food and do much toward increasing the products obtained, no matter whether the returns are to be work performed, milk and butter or meat products.

Winter quarters for animals should be warm and dry and should be furnished with plenty of pure air and good sunlight. Stables should be well ventilated, but without being drafty. There is entirely too little attention paid to having the stable well lighted, especially to having such arrangements as to admit of a flood of sunlight. Sunlight is an effective destroyer of disease germs.

Whatever adds to the comfort of animals increases their ability to properly utilize the food and will enable them to give better returns for that which is being consumed. Kindness is an efficient aid in making animals more productive, and it costs nothing. Abuse and excitement will interfere with digestion and cause a loss of food and product. Kindness and petting make animals contented and put their nervous systems in a condition to properly utilize food and to return their fullest measure of profit.

Feeding For Beef.

In feeding for beef very different rules may be used as a guide from feeding for milk. Even with the calf the object is to produce as much fat as possible, at the same time making growth. If possible, the calf fat with which it is born should never be lost, but continually added to. This means forcing with plenty of muscle and fat-making foods. In feeding for beef more attention should be paid to the age of the animal and period of fattening than is commonly practiced.

Fashions in Butter Color.

A bright, reddish yellow color in butter has come to be popular of late, the result of using a dangerous aniline dye. Of course natural butter is of a very light amber color, but for reasons not easy to explain this tint is not popular. People demand a golden or else reddish tint, the public taste in this regard having become steadily more marked. The butter in the market today is several shades darker than the average of fifteen years ago, and the difference represents merely an additional percentage of dye. It is a curious fashion, and as a reaction against it one notices that the butter served at the best class of restaurants and hotels is almost white.

One Thing and Another.

A great bulk of the best sugar produced east of the Mississippi is made in Michigan, where thirteen factories were in successful operation in 1901. Unless some unusual condition exists the Oklahoma experiment station seeds wheat at the rate of one and one-half bushels per acre.

Shortage of feed on the range is sending the doubtful winter stuff—both cattle and sheep—in large amounts to market.

Wyoming ranchers claim that cattle will refuse grass in favor of Russian thistle, which they eat to the very roots.

In western Washington a new departure is in progress in logging. A company will utilize fir stumps for the extraction of tar and byproducts.

Salt Contents of Flood Waters From Mountains and Plains.

In studying the irrigation waters of Arizona Professor R. H. Forbes of the state experiment station finds that the mountain flood waters contain less salt and usually Signifies Her Willingness to Administer Venezuelan Customs in Behalf of Allies.

WOULD RELIEVE UNITED STATES OF TASK

Final Answers of Allies Expected Any Moment at Washington, and an Immediate Raising of the Blockade, Following Mr. Bowen's Signing of Preliminary Protocol.

Paris, Jan. 28.—It was learned on Wednesday that the Belgian charge d'affaires at Caracas, M. van der Heyde, has informed his diplomatic and official colleagues that Belgium will undertake the administration of the Venezuelan customs in behalf of the allies and other foreign claimants, thus relieving the United States and other parties interested from the responsibility of administering the settlement. Belgian agents will be appointed to receive the customs and distribute the respective portions to the different claimants.

Final Answers Expected.

Washington, Jan. 28.—No advices have yet arrived here from London, Berlin or Rome relative to the Venezuelan negotiations. The representatives of the allies are hopeful that the final answer of the powers, authorizing

WANTS BAER AS WITNESS.

Attorney for Miners Axious to Prove That Operators Restrict Coal Production.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—The anthracite coal strike commission Wednesday heard additional testimony from the independent operators. The examination of the witnesses by counsel for the miners was conducted with a view of ascertaining the reasons why the independent operators preferred to permit the flooding of the company mines rather than grant their employees an eight-hour working day.

John Weber, superintendent of J. S. Wentz's Hazelbrook colliery, said in his opinion the company wanted to manage its own business.

Attorney Darrow, for the miners, addressed the commission and asked that the presidents of the coal carrying roads be brought before the commission to testify concerning the alleged limitation of the coal production. "There has been testimony before this commission," said Mr. Darrow, "that the miners have limited the coal production. We believe the restriction has been made by the operators. But so long as the companies have made the charge I want them to bring before the commission the presidents of the coal carrying roads in order that we may be able to learn the facts."

Mr. Darrow said he desired the presence of President Baer, of the Reading company, and President Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, to learn from them if possible who is

LYNCH SENTENCED TO DIE

British Subject Who Aided Boers During the War Found Guilty of High Treason.

SENTENCE LIKELY TO BE COMMUTED.

His Defense That He Was Naturalized as a Burgher Before Taking Up Arms Fails to Save Him—No Further Action at Present—Summary of His Career.

London, Jan. 24.—Col. Arthur Lynch, member of parliament for Galway, was found guilty yesterday of high treason and sentenced to death. Although formally sentenced to be hanged Lynch's sentence will no doubt be commuted.

The lord chief justice summed up the evidence very briefly. He said that if in war time a British subject joined the king's enemies, whatever his purpose, he was guilty of an unlawful act. Naturalization during war times afforded no excuse whatever for subsequent acts. There was abundant evidence, he said, of overt acts in aiding the king's enemies.

The jury, after having been out half an hour, returned a verdict of guilty. When asked if he had anything to say as to why he should not be sentenced to death, Col. Lynch replied: "Thank you. I will say nothing."

Sentence Pronounced.

The sentence of death was passed on each of the four counts of the indictment. The prisoner then bowed to the court and was removed in custody. Lynch throughout bore himself with unflinching composure. He walked out steadily between the jailers and past the bench where his wife and other relatives were seated. Mrs. Lynch has been given permission to see her husband.

Career of Col. Lynch.

Col. Lynch is an Australian by birth, but an Irishman by nationality and choice. His life has been as full of adventure as one of Charles Lever's celebrated Irish heroes. He is an author, an engineer, a journalist, a soldier, and an ardent politician. In Australia, the United States, England, and South Africa he has advocated home rule for Ireland. His love of conflict overcame him when he reached South Africa as a war correspondent and he became an active combatant.

With President Kruger's permission he organized the Second Transvaal Irish brigade of rough riders, swore allegiance to the Transvaal, and saw much active service. After the defeat of the Boers and while the colonel was in Paris, he was elected by his Irish friends to represent Galway in the house of commons. On his arrival in England, June 11, he was arrested on the charge of high treason.

Life Sentence.

London, Jan. 28.—The sentence of death passed upon Col. Arthur Lynch, who was found guilty of high treason on Friday last, has been commuted to penal servitude for life.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Louisiana Mob Kills and Burns a Negro Who Had Murdered Sheriff Ourey.

Luling, La., Jan. 27.—John Thomas, a negro, was shot to death yesterday and his body burned by a mob after an exciting chase. The negro shot Sheriff Louis S. Ourey, of St. Charles parish, when the officer attempted to arrest him. The murderer fled, and within an hour a thousand armed men were in pursuit. Thomas was overtaken and he opened fire, without effect. The mob closed in, filled the negro's body with bullets, and the corpse was burned in a cabin under a heap of logs.

Stopped a Fight.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 24.—Gov. Yates interfered with the Ryan-Moran fight by wiring Sheriff Potter instructions to prevent it at all costs. The sheriff sent a deputy to the Riverside club hall just before the fight started, the deputy informed Manager Kenny of the governor's instructions and the fight was then declared off.

Frightened by Boys.

Marshalltown, Ia., Jan. 24.—Robbers were frightened by boys before they succeeded in entering the Vincent bank in Webster county. The cracksmen had partly broken the door to the bank. A can of dynamite and a bottle of nitroglycerin were left behind.

Bank Robbed.

the raising of the blockade, may reach here within the next 24 hours. It will be communicated at once to Mr. Bowen and the preliminary protocol will then be signed.

Impressed with the fair spirit in which Mr. Bowen has conducted the negotiations for Venezuela, an appeal has come to the minister from one of the largest German firms in existence asking that he protect German interests so far as he may be able, in his representations to the powers. He is especially urged to call to the attention of the powers the serious harm that will accrue to foreign trade in Venezuela and throughout South America if the allies insist on any proposition involving the overturning of the currency system of Venezuela. This appeal, with Mr. Bowen's indorsement, has been communicated to the powers. Mr. Bowen is thus placed in the peculiar attitude of asking protection from the powers for the interests of their own citizens.

Son of Ambassador Choate Engaged. Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The engagement is announced of Miss Cora Oliver, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Robert Shaw Oliver, to Joseph H. Miss Oliver is the second daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Oliver and a great favorite in Albany society.

Wisconsin Sheriffs.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 28.—The sheriffs of Wisconsin are planning for a meeting at Milwaukee, Friday, to frame a petition for a bill in the state legislature seeking to change from the present fee system. The sheriff of Waukesha county is at the head of the plan, which includes asking that continuous pursuit of criminals to collect fees be abolished and that increased payment be made for services.

Will Retain His Old Place.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Charles Ray Dean, who has been the private secretary of David J. Hill, the assistant secretary of state, for the past three years, has been invited by Francis R. Loomis, who succeeds Dr. Hill, to remain with him in the same capacity, and he will do so.

THE DEADLY BOILER.

Explosion in Foundry at Anniston, Ala., Tears Six Men to Pieces and Injures Others.

Anniston, Ala., Jan. 28.—A large boiler in the malleable foundry of the Southern Car and Foundry company blew up Wednesday morning, killing six persons and injuring probably 20 others, several of whom will die.

Parts of the boiler weighing a ton or more were blown over the buildings a thousand feet from the place of the explosion. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Convict Labor Bill.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—Complete revolution of the convict labor system of the state is contemplated at this session of the legislature. Senator Putnam, of Peoria, introduced a bill Wednesday looking to this change, and although it means the expenditure of an enormous amount, the trade unions and labor officials connected with the state administration have worked so hard for its passage that the measure may go through in spite of the objections which will be raised against its enactment. Secretary David Ross, of the state labor bureau, drafted the bill, and says it has the sanction of the leading workingmen's organizations of Chicago.

Waives Rights of Immunity.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The state department has received a cablegram from ex-Minister Hunter, at Guatemala City, asking if the United States waives the right of immunity in the case of his son who is under trial there for killing Fitzgerald, and it has informed him that it does.

Eat Inheritance Tax Fee.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 28.—Twenty thousand dollars were collected Tuesday under the inheritance tax law from the estate of A. W. Patten of Appleton. The estate was appraised at $600,000 and one-third was willed to a friend not a blood relative, for which ten per cent. was collected.

Child Insurance.

Some time ago a bill was introduced in the house of representatives which attracted attention to a startlingly new practice carried on in many parts of Michigan. The bill prohibits the insurance of lives of children under the age of more than $15.

The introduction of the bill is at the instance of the following communication of Dr. B. R. Shurtly:

Annually a certain number of children are criminally made away with in Detroit as in any other city for the sake of the insurance on their lives. To substantiate his statement Dr. Shurtly relates the following incident: "I was called to the bedside of a child ill with a most malignant form of diphtheria. The case had progressed for a week with absolutely no care or attention. The mother and father represented the lowest type of Polish mentality and were entirely unmoved at this truly pathetic scene of the suffering child. I outlined careful instructions for treatment to be followed immediately, for there was a chance even then for recovery, but none of my instructions were carried out. The mother admitted when I came again after the child had passed away, 'If it dies, it dies,' they say.

The helpless little one of two or three years had been totally neglected, and my judgment had died purely and simply because it was neglected. I remember distinctly as I left the house being forcibly impressed with the fact that the utter indifference of the mother and father. One can imagine my astonishment when a few hours later I found the father in my office, insurance papers in hand, and, with a beaming countenance, asking me to fill them out. He very frankly admitted neglecting the child and shared in the general impression that prevails among many of our foreign population that too many girls in a family are a nuisance anyway."

One can hardly believe that such horrible acts could be perpetrated by any human being. The fathers and mothers who deliberately murder their children for the sake of money are worse than beasts, for marvelous care for their young is shown by many animals. Parental love seems never to have been harbored in the bosom of the child murderers. No punishment is too great for those who take the lives of their own offspring.

The system of child insurance is a wrong to the child. It leads to neglect of the child in case of sickness, and it gives a temptation to infanticide. A parent who insures his child does so in the hope of gain. His object is primarily the same as child labor, which is without doubt a wrong and which is restricted by legislation. The scheme is a huge chance in which the parent, who holds the life of a child at his command, risks that the child will die, while the insurance company risks the child will live.

Circuit Court.

The damage case of Everett H. Comstock against the township of Georgetown was begun on Monday. The complainant claims himself injured worth $1000. The following jurors served on the case: Albert Brown, Wright; John Oostema, Spring Lake; Derk DeKline, Jamestown; D. A. Foster, Robinson; Michael Houlihan, Wright; Harm Lang, Sr., Polkton; Theodore Lessien, and Haven township; Henry Moll, and Haven, 4th ward; George R. Avery, Grand Haven, 2nd ward; Mel Smith Tallmadge; Albert Wiltner, Holland. The complainant was represented by Attorneys Lombard Danhof and the township retained Attorneys Smedley and Walter Millie. John Quigley, highway commissioner, and George M. Hubbard appear as witnesses for the township. The jury was struck at three o'clock. Gerrit Giebel and Bert Bask were sworn in six and eight months at Ionia respectively. The prisoners are charged with stealing candy from a freight car near Zeeland. The stolen goods amount to about two dollars.

William Asman of Conklin appeared in the circuit court for sentence under the charge of violating the liquor laws by selling liquors to minors. Judge Padgham gave Mr. Asman a very nice little talk and fined him fifteen dollars and costs, all amounting to $25.85.

The judge told Asman that he believed his story and had no doubt but that the complainant came in upon him while he was a stranger in Conklin and told him they were of age.

The judge stated that the offense was, nevertheless, a violation of the liquor law and it was his duty to punish it. He said, however, that he would make the fine as nominal as possible.

Robert Smith and Rachel J. Turman were taken to jail for six and eight months respectively by Judge Padgham.

Mrs. L. E. Van Drezer has received information that she is one of the heirs to a $30,000,000 estate located in Wales. The deceased relative who had amassed this vast fortune is Jeremiah White, her great, great grandfather. Until his death he was not known to have considerable wealth. Thus far 16 heirs are located though there may be a few more. At present a cousin of Mrs. Van Drezer, Mrs. George Branton of Duluth from whom Mrs. Van Drezer received information is in communication with lawyers who are looking after the estate. As soon as further information is received Mrs. Van Drezer, or her mother, Mrs. White, will leave for St. Thomas, Canada, where the legality of the heirs' claims will most likely be established.

As the estate is so large and the relatives comparatively few, Mrs. Van Drezer can expect an immense share. Thus far Mr. and Mrs. Van Drezer thro hard and energetic work have established a lucrative restaurant business. Mr. Van Drezer was the first man in Holland to manage a first class restaurant successfully. The News congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Van Drezer on their good fortune and hopes that the legality of the claim may soon be established.

The next lecture before the Theological students will be delivered in Semelink hall on Tuesday evening next at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. S. Van der Werf of the First Reformed church of this city. Subject "The Bible in our Social Life." A general invitation is extended.

The much mooted Lake Michigan steamship trust, which was to swallow every passenger line of note on the lake, and which was to be capitalized at about $7,000,000 is not likely to materialize. It is said in marine circles that President Graham has kicked over the traces, and the trust can hardly organize without him.

Next Sunday theological students will occupy the following pulpits: A. DeYoung, Lafayette, Ind.; J. Straks, Jamestown; A. B. Van Zante, Portage; W. Beckering, Ada; G. Douwstra, Immanuel church of Muskegon; R. Douwstra, Third church of Kalamazoo; J. Steunenbergh, North Blenden; J. Vander Heide, Coopersville; S. F. Riepma, Fairview, Ill.

The Holland Poultry and Pet Stock association will be represented at the Grand Rapids poultry show by the following exhibitors: Vissers & Zuidewind, J. B. Hadden, Jacob and R. Westveld, Milo and Thomas DeVries, J. L. Conkey, John Schippers, L. S. Sprietzma, J. Boven, Arie Vanderhill, William Vissers and others. The local exhibitors will send 40 or more coops of birds which are to be in charge of John Westveld. The show will open on Feb. 3 in the double store on Pearl street near the office of the Evening Press.

J. H. Dubbink, a cousin to Rev. G. H. Dubbink of this city, passed away last Monday evening. The deceased suffered a lingering illness from tuberculosis of the lungs. Several years Mr. Dubbink resided at Overisel. Later he moved to Hamilton where he was engaged in the mercantile business. For some time he had been a resident of this city residing at 144 West Sixteenth street. The funeral was held last Thursday at 10 o'clock from the house and at 1:30 from the church at Overisel where the interment took place. Revs. Van den Berg of Overisel and Rosendahl of Hamilton officiated at the funeral services. The deceased is survived by a wife and three children.

The enrollment in the high school department for this half year is one hundred ninety three. Pupils who have been out for any cause—or boys and girls who are planning to enter the high school some day—should enroll next Monday morning and make a start when new classes are being formed. The enrollment should exceed 300 in this department, and at no distant day it ought to reach 300, considering the size of the city and the excellent advantages offered. The corps of teachers was never stronger than today; the equipment was never so good before; from subprimaries to high school a spirit of enthusiasm prevails, and every indication gives promise of continued advancement in the five months that remain.

Mr. Frank Oosting has purchased the millinery store of the Misses Sutton and is now getting ready for the spring trade.

John Verboeks charged with assault to do great bodily harm has been discharged because his relatives refused to prosecute the case.

The small pox epidemic is on the increase Holland has been remarkably spared. Much credit is due to our health officer. There is no case of the disease in Holland at present. Grand Rapids reports about 40 cases.

"Hob je Willem ook gezien?" was arrested Wednesday for being drunk and disorderly and Justice Van Duren fined him $12. Night Watchman Brown locked him up after Harkema had awakened all the peaceful residents on Boiler avenue.

A dispatch received this morning by Mr. and Mrs. R. Oostema states that their daughter, Lena Oostema is very low. James Oostema and Mr. P. F. Oostema have gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where Miss Oostema, who is suffering from pneumonia, is at present spending some time for the sake of her health.

John Elferdink, the defunct shoe dealer, was arrested on a warrant issued by Justice DeVries charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. Hans Dykhuis brought him to Holland from Grand Rapids. The complaint against Elferdink is signed by Daniel Bertsch who alleges that Elferdink secured the former's signature to two promissory notes, the total amount being $605.

It has been many years since there have been such beautiful days and evenings for sleighrides. Especially during the past week did the frosty air ring with the rollicking songs of merry sleighing parties. Children from the neighboring country schools, crowded in sleighs so that there was scarce standing room, rode through the streets and sent forth their happy shouts and songs. Especially in the evening did the merry bells ring and the songs float in the air as the joyful sleighing parties merrily rode along.

The bill presented by Representative Whelan, amending our city charter was passed under a suspension of the rules and given immediate effect. The bill has also been passed in the senate.

At a special meeting of Grand Haven's common council the Woman's club tendered a petition requesting that the common council at its earliest convenience take such actions as are necessary to provide a suitable site upon which may be erected a public library. At the same time the Club pledged themselves, provided the council grants the necessary appropriation, to donate one thousand volumes, and to do everything in their power to promote the efficiency of free public library. The women of Grand Haven rightly state in their petition that a free public library is recognized as a powerful educational factor in a community, and as an important addition to the moral forces of every progressive city.

One of the most prominent of contagious diseases just now is that of measles. As many as 50 cards indicating the disease can be found in town. Besides those publicly known many cases can be suspected in families where the children are kept from school and where the small sled which at all times is accustomed to active use when the youngsters have a holiday stands idle under the porch, or lies half buried under the snow. The health officer, who on account of the extensive prevalence of the disease, the negligence of many families in reporting cases and the inability of one man to visit all cases reported, desires to give the following suggestions: "First, that there is little danger attending a straight case of measles provided the patient is in reasonably good health at the time of the attack. The danger lies in complications. Second, in case a patient is extraordinarily sick a physician should at once be employed. Third, when convalescent or recovering from the disease the patient should be kept in, and not subjected to changes of temperature for at least a week after apparent recovery."

Hon. I. Marsilje, J. H. Daverman & Sons and Attorney G. J. Kooyers, will occupy the top floor of the First State Bank building. The bank people are remodeling the rooms to suit the tenants. Attorneys Diekema and Kollen will occupy the rooms vacated by Mr. Marsilje, giving them more space to handle their growing law business.

The Ladies of the Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. McClellen, 169 East Fifth street, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 3rd. All ladies interested in missions are cordially invited.

THE VAN RAALTE COLONY

And its Influence on Holland at the Present Time.

By Mrs. H. D. Post, of Holland.

As I look back to my first meeting with Dr. Van Raalte—he looked so young, with no beard—and recall the striking incidents of that time, and each successive year, the faces that were familiar, and who have now passed away, the changes and progress, and improvements down to the present day, it seems to my mind a wonderful panorama. It was in the winter of '47 that Dr. Van Raalte first visited this tract of land where our City now stands. I have been told by a person who was with him when he first looked at the land, that he knelt down in the snow and prayed for guidance and direction from above.

Let us look for a moment at the prospect before him. The ground was covered not only with snow, but with a most magnificent growth of forest trees of immense size, sugar maple, oak, hemlock, a great variety, many of them 6 feet in diameter.

The people who had come with the dominie, (as we called him then) knew nothing about chopping down these great trees. They were builders of wind mills, store-keepers, carpenters, tailors, goldsmiths, shoe-makers, and when I asked my near neighbor his vocation he replied, "Busselmaker" meaning brush maker. The Dominie knew the character of his people, knew they were active, steady, persevering and could learn. They were also actuated by the same motive which had brought their leader here. So the beautiful forest did not deter him from his purpose. He came not to this wilderness to seek his own, or to secure any possible worldly advantage. The motive that brought him here was a noble one, that he might enjoy more religious freedom. It was on the occasion of the marriage of his eldest son, at the wedding feast that the dominie related among other reminiscences, that when the bridegroom was an infant, he, the dominie, was thrown into prison for preaching contrary to law. He chose America as the land of his adoption because here he could enjoy perfect religious freedom. There were great trials and privations to be endured but in the darkest hour he seemed to see with prophetic eye the future success of his labors. I have heard him say when we were passing through the the darkest days: "If my head laid low the place would still go on. My work can not be in vain, because I have built in faith." His wife was a noble helpmate worthy of a place in history along with him. The remembrance of home and kindred often intruded itself, and Mrs. Van Raalte often spoke of the trial of leaving early, and still well remembered friends, but she always added, "It is the Lord."

A volume could easily be filled with reminiscences of those early days, but a glance must suffice to show the contrast between our privileges now, and those enjoyed by the early settlers. Our mail in those days came only once a week, on Thursday afternoon. How eagerly we watched for Vrouw Notting to come with the mail bag on her back. Her husband would go to Manlius in Allegan County and bring the bag on his back to his home in Graafschap. He would be tired out. His good wife would then bring it the last three miles to Holland. I frequently assisted my husband in opening and making up the mail in those days. There were not as many love letters written then for the postage was higher. As yet we had no roads. Now the mail comes every few hours, but we do not appreciate it, as when it came only once a week.

I cannot refrain from alluding to our system of lighting at that time. We used the tallow candle. My husband thought I must learn to make mold-candles so in one of his journeys to Allegan he purchased some candle molds. I filled in good orthodox order, a wick in the centre and then full of hot tallow. I put them out doors against a large tree close by the door. Very soon I heard the rustling of leaves and I ran to the door just in time to see a hungry looking Indian dog jumping over logs and brush with the candle molds and candles in his mouth. He ran so fast that it was useless to think of pursuing him and I was left to meditate on the light that failed. That was the light of other days.

The supply of milk for the family seems a trifling thing but in those days it involved a deal of labor. Our milk man was a milk woman. We did not have the cow brought to the door and milked in our presence as is done in our "New possessions" but good Vrouw Arens brought the milk in pails which hung from a yoke which was across her shoulders. I would say, "Good Morning, Vrouw Arens, are you well?" and she, while she was dipping out my supply of milk would respond to my inquiry thus, "Beter hoef het niet te wezen," meaning it need not be any better, but it was better after a while for she got a horse and wagon.

It was at the quarter centennial anniversary of this settlement that Dr. Van Raalte paid a tribute to the citizens of the United States who received and aided the colonists, among the names he mentioned was Gen. Lewis Cass, Dr. Wykon of Albany, Judge Kellogg of Allegan, and many more names I have forgotten. But it was Gen. Robert Stuart, of Mich., who first directed his attention to the present location. His object was to secure a site for a society of religious people which should form a centre of education and religion. The first church services were held in the open air. It was at a place near where the Van Raalte home now stands. A place cleared by the falling trees and forming a hollow square. A person who was present said it was a beautiful picture. This was in May of '47. In the Autumn of that year the first church was built of logs. It was not till 1856 that a church was built in the city. The log church was near where the cemetery now is. The aim of the emigrant was education, and step by step from our public school to the Academy, and now Hope College which has a name and a place among the colleges of our land. Dr. Van Raalte had noble helpers, but to him belongs the honor of laying the foundation. As I write the names of Dominie Pieters, Dr. Phelps, Hope's first President, Dr. Stewart, Beek, Scott, all faithful men who have passed away. But our fathers, where are they?

As I recall the incidents of those early days, it seems like the stories of the original settlement at Plymouth, the voyage across the sea, the forest life, the great sickness and privation of those days, the religious zeal and strong faith of those Holland pilgrims. Hope College and the Theological Seminary crown the educational system which is the outgrowth of their religious faith. The first lecture ever delivered here was by Dr. Phelps, and his subject was "Omens, signs, auguries or prognostications." It was interesting and deserves mention as being the first of a series given under the auspices of the Fraternal Society of Hope College.

The wilderness has been made to blossom like the rose, a change has been wrought which at first thought seemed impossible. Let us not forget that these people were christians and they trusted in one who heard and answered their prayers. They brought their religion over the sea with them. I remember the first morning after my arrival, hearing from the little log houses all around us the singing of psalms, and on inquiry was told it was the beautiful custom to sing after each meal or before it.

Now we have taken a hasty glance at Holland as it was in the beginning of our history, when winding paths not deserving the name of roads, through the thick forest, among the trees and over the logs, led among the scattered huts, some built of logs, some of boards and some of boughs and bark. I remember going to see a sick person and noticed that the bedstead upon which he lay was made of twigs of a tree with the bark on them.

We were at that time surrounded on all sides by an unbroken forest isolating us as completely from the world outside as if we were on an island in the ocean. How different is the picture as we now see it. Our city surrounding our fine harbor, and numerous vessels and steamers, engaged in a lucrative trade with the great shipping centres of Illinois and Wisconsin, railroads diverging in many different directions, telegraph lines giving us the means of sending messages, which contrast strongly with good Vrouw Notting's weekly mail, our shops and factories giving employment to a large and increasing population. Our beautiful streets lighted with electricity and lined with well constructed buildings. Our many pleasant homes, our churches, and our school houses—all of these go to make up our Holland of today.

Some one has said and truly, "Holland owes her proud position today, by God's blessing to the careful and successful labors of those to whom the great work of organizing and shaping the growth of the new settlement was committed."

Dr. Van Raalte was spared to see his labors crowned with success. The people who came with him from the fatherland were blessed with high educational advantages, prosperous in their enterprises and comfortable in their homes, and respected as worthy citizens of their adopted country.

The contemplation of this subject for a few moments is well calculated to fill our hearts with gratitude to Him who has so blessed and prospered us in the past that we can safely trust the future in the hands of Him who has brought us thus far, and so signally blessed us, in spiritual as well as temporal things. Many congregations in our western states owe their existence under Providence to this important centre. How many ministers of the gospel and teachers have gone from among us and now laboring in distant lands. In China, Japan, Arabia and India are noble workers among the heathen whose names are familiar to us all. Here in our college a few years ago several native Japanese were educated. They were baptized and became members of Hope Church, and afterwards returned to their native land to spread the knowledge of the Gospel among their own people. These influences have earthly limit but spread wider and wider until the final result can only be known in eternity. The event of Dr. Van Raalte and his people settling in this locality in 1847 has had a great influence upon the History of our country in general, sufficient to warrant my choosing this subject and calling it "A History Making Event."

Society and x x Personal.

The grand ball and banquet given under the auspices of Unity Lodge, F. & A. M. last Friday evening came up to the expectation of all who attended. The hall in the Van der Veen block was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. The polished floor shown like a mirror. As one entered the magnificently prepared hall, and heard the enchanting music he seemed to be in a fairy land where the music laden air and gorgeous scenes seemed to bewitch his senses. Until 11 o'clock the tripping dancers merrily glided along and then retired to the Masonic lodge rooms where the savory fumes of the banquet, prepared by the ladies of the Eastern Star, enticed everyone to a hearty repast. After the dancers had been refreshed they returned to the dancing hall where the small hours of the morning surprised the merry participants of the ball and told them that the happy event was past.

The Ladies Guild of Grace church were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. A. Stevenson Wednesday afternoon.

The Hope church Young Ladies Aid society met this week at the home of Miss Alice Purdy.

A surprise party consisting of a few young friends of Olive Centre left last Friday evening for South Blenden where the unsuspecting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yonker were made the victims of their welcome invasion. The unexpected guests were royally entertained and heartily partook of an inviting supper. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music. At a late hour the merry party left for home. A good time is reported by all.

A merry sleighing party, consisting of twenty young people of Overisel, was entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barkel on Central avenue. Games, music and refreshments made the evening pass quickly and afforded all a pleasant time.

Last Friday evening the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Reidsma was opened to a farewell reception given by the Young Ladies Missionary society of Third church in honor of Miss Ruth Kerkhof, who for many years has been an active member of the society. As a token of remembrance Miss Kerkhof was presented with an ornamental clock. In a few words she expressed her gratitude and requested the prayers of the society to aid her in her difficult work. An interesting program was presented. Mrs. A. Oltmans gave an interesting talk on foreign and domestic missions. Solos were rendered by the Misses Nauta and Amy Dosker. The Misses Gertrude and Grace Hoekje gave charming readings and a piano duet was pleasingly rendered by the Misses Mamie Reidsma and Kate Zwemer. Dainty refreshments were served and a pleasant social time followed.

Mrs. Trott entertained a large number of ladies at the parsonage last Tuesday afternoon when the M. E. Aid society gave its January tea. Mrs. Trot is an able leader in all the duties that evolve upon her and the society feels certain that with her presence good results in every direction of its work will be accomplished this year.

Last Thursday evening the local lodge I. O. O. F. No. 192 initiated several candidates. A large number of members were present including visiting members from Hamilton, Saugatuck and Grand Rapids. After initiation a banquet was served and all had a very enjoyable evening.

The Ladies Guild of Grace church gave another delightful slinch party. Mrs. Guy Bradford won ladies' head prize and Daniel TenCate gent's head prize. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Thirty couple attended the first social entertainment given by the Knights Social club at K. of P. hall in the Visscher block. Breyman's orchestra furnished the music for the dancers.

The Woman's Literary club held its usual meeting at the home of Mrs. Klog. On account of the slushy walks and the inclemency of the weather many could not attend. As Mrs. Geo. E. Kollen, the president, was ill, Mrs. C. A. Stevenson gracefully presided at the meeting. Quaint and interesting legends of New England were told in response to roll call. Mrs. Elferdink in a very carefully prepared paper entitled "Religion and Government of the Colonies" brought out the peculiar religious and customs of the early New Englanders. A trio consisting of Mrs. W. J. Garrod and the Misses Kittle Doesburg and Amy Yates rendered an appreciated musical selection. Mrs. Stevenson read an interesting paper on "The Wesleys" with brief extracts from John Wesley's sermons. "The History of a News Paper—The Pennsylvania Gazette," a reading, was entertainingly delivered by Mrs. Easley. Mrs. Geerlings pleasingly read "How the Republic Got Its Name." The program for Feb. 3 is assigned as follows:

Roll Call—Early Governors.
Pontiac Conspiracy—Mrs. Holcomb.
Taxation—"Law and Order"—Mrs. Wetmore.
Music—Instrumental solo—Mrs. Stekotoe.
The Stamp Act—Mrs. Howell.
Women of the Time—Mrs. Wing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whelan were very pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening when a happy party of friends unexpectedly made their appearance. The evening was spent with progressive pedro, at which prizes were won by Mrs. J. A. Van der Veen and Miss Ida Kearns, of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Dr. Gillespie and Mr. Geo. Huntley received consolations. Music, recitations and refreshments added to the pleasure of the evening. Out of town guests were Mrs. Catherine Kearns, and three daughters, Ida, Eva and Nellie, Mrs. Catherine Byrne, and Master B. Hall of Grand Rapids, and Miss Marguerite Morrison of Detroit. A very happy evening was spent by all that were present.

Mrs. A. D. Goodrich was a Grand Rapids visitor last Saturday.

Mrs. P. A. Kleis returned from Grand Rapids where she has been the guest of friends and relatives.

Theological Student J. Wayer preached in the Second Reformed church in Eglewood last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Huntley, Jr., the Misses Lindley and Messrs. Findlater and Grace of Grand Rapids attended the Masonic ball last Friday evening.

Miss Ruth Kerkhof will leave February 4, for Kentucky.

Henry Harmon visited his friends in Holland this week. Mr. Harmon was formerly a barber of this city, but is at present located in New Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Landry, of Chicago, who visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harrington were the guests of honor last Friday evening at a social event given by Mr. and Mrs. C. Ver Schure.

J. Lokker went to East Saugatuck on business last Saturday.

Mrs. Hattie Werkman is spending a pleasant time with relatives in Muskegon.

John Boost, Jr., formerly of this city, has accepted a position as clerk in the postoffice at Traverse City.

Gerrit G. Van Dyk returned Wednesday from a visit with relatives at New Holland.

Dr. H. Bos, of Filmore, was in Holland last Wednesday.

James Oostema is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Oostema. Mr. Oostema is a student at the Moody Institute of Chicago.

Miss Mary Elenbaas is visiting her brother, John Elenbaas at Harvey, Ill.

Mrs. J. H. Den Herder was the guest of relatives at Overisel this week.

Do you know what it means when Jas. A. Brouwer offers a remnant sale to you? A remnant sale means that you can buy, at a great reduction from the regular price, goods that are in the way for a new stock. They are not old for they were ordered for the last holiday trade. Some of the immense lot that was ordered must necessarily be left, and they must be disposed of. Go and see the odds and ends in velvet, axminster and ingrain carpets, fluolium and matting. They are in all sizes from 1 to 25 yards.

Velvets and axminsters that formerly sold at $1.00, $1.10, $1.25 and $1.35 go at 85 cents a yard. All wool carpets that formerly sold at 65, 70, 75 and 80 cents now go at 55 cents a yard. Linolium remnants at 45 cents a yard. Broken lots of odd pairs of lace curtains go at 25 per cent reductions. If you are quick you can secure what you want at a great bargain. Jas. A. ### David, the Shepherd Boy.

On Wednesday evening the Hope College Choral Union dramatically delivered the grand cantata entitled "David, the Shepherd Boy." The cantata is divided into eleven scenes which represent the story of David from the time he was a shepherd boy until he was crowned as king.

G. J. Dinkeloo, of Chicago, very effectively took the part of David. Mr. Dinkeloo has a sweet and highly cultured voice and is a popular singer. Ray Hadden of this city skillfully played sweet music on the harp to appease the wrath of king Saul. All the soloists did credit to themselves and their efficient director Prof. Nykerk. Miss Amy Dosker represented in a very modest and graceful manner the Shepherd queen.

James DePree with a beautiful bass voice, represented Saul and ably expressed the various emotions, felt by the despondent king. Other prominent characters were excellently represented also by members of the union. Much credit is due to Prof. Nykerk who has rehearsed and drilled the 40 voices of which the Choral Union is composed.

The Woman's Missionary society of Hope church will hold its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. J. T. Bergen on Wednesday next, Feb. 4th at three o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

TRIBUTE BY ROOSEVELT.

President Makes Eloquent Address at Canton in Memory of McKinley.

BIRTHDAY OF DEAD PRESIDENT HONORED

Large and Distinguished Company at the Banquet Given Under the Auspices of the Canton Republican League—Judge William F. Day Presides as the Toastmaster.

Canton, O., Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt on Tuesday night participated in a notable tribute to the memory of the late President McKinley. He was the principal orator at a banquet given under the auspices of the Canton Republican league in commemoration of the birthday of McKinley. Surrounded by friends, neighbors and business and political associates of the dead president, he pronounced a brilliant and eloquent eulogy upon the life and works of McKinley—a eulogy by many regarded as the most beautiful and heartfelt tribute ever paid to the memory of the distinguished dead.

The occasion was the most brilliant of the kind ever witnessed in Canton, and few banquets held in Ohio have equalled it in beauty, elaborateness and interest. Among the 457 assembled about the boards were some of the most distinguished men in the civil, public and political life of the country. Judge William F. Day acted as toastmaster.

The President's Address.
Following is a synopsis of President Roosevelt's address at the banquet:

President Roosevelt paid a tribute to the martyr president only, and did not make any statements that might be taken as an outline of the administration policy. Beginning, he said:

"It was given to President McKinley to take the foremost place in our political life at a time when our country was brought face to face with problems more momentous than any whose solution we have ever attempted, save only in the revolution and in the civil war; and it was under his leadership that the nation solved these mighty problems aright. Therefore he shall stand in the eyes of history not merely as the first man of his generation, but as among the greatest figures in our national life, coming second only to the men of the two great crises in which the union was founded and preserved."

The president outlined McKinley's military and political career, down to the date of the convention when he was first nominated for president.

Referring to the conduct of the war and the problems which followed, especially in the Philippines, President Roosevelt said:

Genuine Statesmanship.

"But though now it is easy enough to see that our duty was to stay in the islands, to put down the insurrection by force of arms, and then to establish freedom-giving civil government, it needed genuine statesmanship to see this and to act accordingly at the time of the first revolt. A weaker and less far-sighted man than President McKinley would have shrunk from a task very difficult in itself, and certain to furnish occasion for attack and misrepresentation no less than for honest misunderstanding. But President McKinley never flinched. He refused to consider the thought of abandoning our duty in our new possessions. While sedulously endeavoring to act with the utmost humanity toward the insurrectionists, he never faltered in the determination to put them down by force of arms, alike for the sake of our own interests and honor, and for the sake of the interest of the islanders, and particularly of the great numbers of friendly natives, including those most highly civilized, for whom abandonment by us would have meant ruin and death. Again his policy was most amply vindicated. Peace has come to the islands, together with a greater measure of individual liberty and self-government than they have ever before known. All the tasks set us as a result of the war with Spain have so far been well and honorably accomplished, and as a result this nation stands higher than ever before among the nations of mankind."

An Eloquent Tribute.

After referring to the second political campaign that resulted in favor of the martyr president, and of his assassination at Buffalo, the speaker said:

"We are gathered together to-night to recall his memory, to pay our tribute of respect to the great chief and leader who fell in the harness, who was stricken down while his eyes were bright with 'the light that tells of triumph tasted.' We can honor him best by the way we show in actual deed that we have taken to heart the lessons of his life. We must strive to achieve, each in the measure that he can, something of the qualities which made President McKinley a leader of men, a mighty courage, his courtesy and dignity, his sense of justice, his ever-present kindness and regard for the rights of others. He won greatness by meeting and solving the issues as they arose—not by shirking them—meeting them with wisdom, with the exercise of the most skillful and cautious judgment, but with fearless resolution when the time of crisis came. He met each crisis on its own merits; he never sought excuse for shirking a task in the fact that it was the task of the one he had ex-he carried the musket in the ranks and closed when as a man in the prime of his intellectual strength he stood among the world's chief statesmen, came to what it was because he treated each triumph as opening the road to fresh effort, not as an excuse for ceasing from effort. He undertook mighty tasks. Some of them he finished completely; others we must finish; and there remain yet others which he did not have to face, but which if we are worthy to be the inheritors of his principles we will in our turn face with the same resolution, the same sanity, the same unflinching belief in the greatness of this country, and unflinching championship of the rights of each and all of our people, which marked his high and splendid career."

President Pleased with Trip.

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt and party reached this city safely after what the president himself regards as a most interesting trip. Several times he has expressed his pleasure at the reception accorded him in Canton, and was particularly pleased with the speeches delivered at the dinner Tuesday night.

ACRIMONIOUS DEBATE.

Senators Engage in Spirited Discussion of Resolution Asking for Information on Court-Martials.

Washington, Jan. 28.—In the senate Wednesday the resolution offered Tuesday by Senator Rawlins calling upon the secretary of war for information regarding certain trials by court-martial in the Philippines, was called up.

Senator Lodge protested that the resolution called for the printing of proceedings of a voluminous nature.

Senator Rawlins urged that the resolution be adopted, because neighbors and relatives of the persons concerned had demanded the facts.

Then followed a spirited debate between Senators Rawlins, Beveridge and Carmack. Senator Carmack characterized the charge that the democrats were assailing the army as the "meanest and dirtiest" of all that had been made, and replying Senator Beveridge said Senator Carmack had made his charge because the investigation did not result as he (Carmack) had hoped it would. "It did not result in putting on the American army the brand which the senator had thought would be put there, but which resulted in a complete and brilliant vindication."

Washington, Jan. 28.—Soon after the house convened Wednesday a motion was made to concur in the senate amendments to the bankruptcy bill and after some debate was agreed to, 124 to 32. The house then resumed consideration of the Indian appropriation bill.

Marshal Kills a Bad Man.

Davenport, Wash., Jan. 28.—Marshal Jack O'Farrell and Deputy Epperley shot and killed Charles Hill in a saloon here just as Hill was about to fire a third bullet into the prostrate body of Joseph Hoy, the bartender. Hill, who is a farm laborer, had been drinking. He entered the saloon, forced the bystanders to line up along the wall and opened fire on Hoy, shooting him twice, when the officers entered and put an end to his career. Hoy may recover.

Charged with Arson.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 28.—Charged with setting the fire which caused the destruction of the entire village of Bear Creek, Wis., last July, entailing a property loss of $25,000, Miss Lucile Cobert was arrested Tuesday as a result of a letter addressed to a Catholic priest at Bear Creek, which was read from the pulpit and which purported to be the deathbed confession of a man in a Chicago hospital.

Spooner's Election Ratified.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—The election of John C. Spooner as United States senator, to succeed himself, was ratified Wednesday in joint session of the legislature. Mr. Spooner received the full party vote. Neal Brown, of Wausau, received the complimentary vote of the democratic minority. Senator Spooner appeared before the joint body and made a speech. He was given a great ovation.

Street Car Accident at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—As the result of a very heavy fog that overspread the city for several hours Wednesday there were several street car collisions. Within 70 minutes two head-on collisions occurred on the Clayton division of the Transit company's lines. Five men were seriously injured in the two wrecks and a number of others received bruises and scratches.

Fresh Outbreak in China.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 28.—The steamer Shiao Maru, which arrived Tuesday from the orient, brought further news of the spread of the revolution in South China, which, after being dormant for months, broke out recently with a larger scope than before. On December 19 a battle was fought in which 200 imperial troops were killed by the rebels.

Says Howard Fired Shot.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 28.—A Frankfort (Ky.) special to the Courier-Journal says: "James B. Howard, of Clay county, fired the shot that killed William Goebel," said Henry E. Youtsey, in his confession as to his part in and knowledge of the conspiracy which terminated in the assassination of the democratic claimant to the governorship.

Suffering from Cancer of Kidneys.

Genoa, Italy, Jan. 28.—Hubbard T. Smith, the vice and deputy consul general at Cairo, who is at a hospital here, has become unconscious. The latest diagnosis shows that he is suffering from cancer of the kidneys.

THE NATIONAL CONGRESS.

Lawmakers in Both Senate and House Are Busy Considering Measures of Importance.

SUMMARY OF THE DAILY PROCEEDINGS.

Most of the Time in the Senate Is Occupied in Discussing the Statehood Bill—House Passes a Coinage Measure for the Philippines—Other Notes.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The omnibus statehood bill was further discussed in the senate yesterday. An attempt to hold an executive session to consider the Cuban reciprocity treaty was defeated by Senator Quay.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The statehood bill occupied the entire attention of the senate yesterday except for a few routine matters. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was sent to conference and a favorable report was made on the bill appropriating $200,000 for the erection of headstones to mark the graves of confederate soldiers buried in the north.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The statehood bill again occupied the attention of the senate yesterday and during the debate several spirited colloquies occurred. The treaty between the United States and the government of Colombia was received and referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The Panama canal treaty was briefly considered in executive session of the senate Saturday and the secretary of state was authorized to make it public. Senator Spooner brought up the Indianola (Miss.) post office affair and defended the action of the president. The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill ($36,000) was reported.

Washington, Jan. 27.—In the senate yesterday the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was further discussed. Senator Alger (Mich.) and Senator Kittredge (S. D.) took the oath of office.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Senator Quay made an effort yesterday to hold the senate in continuous session to consider the statehood bill, but failed to hold a quorum. The day was spent in consideration of the statehood bill. Senator Penrose introduced a bill authorizing the purchase of the farm at Appomattox on which the surrender of Gen. Lee took place, and Senator Foraker introduced an amendment to the naval appropriation bill making citizens of Porto Rico eligible to appointment as cadets at the naval and military academies.

House.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The house spent the time yesterday in committee of the whole in debate on the Philippine coinage bill. The military academy appropriation bill ($644,273) was reported and a bill was introduced to enable persons to locate coal claims on unsurveyed lands in Alaska.

Washington, Jan. 23.—In the house yesterday the Philippine coinage bill reported by the insular affairs committee was rejected and the substitute offered by the minority for the introduction of American currency and the American coinage system in the islands was adopted.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The house yesterday passed 235 private pension bills. They included pensions to the widow of Gen. Franz Sigel at $100 a month, the widow of Gen. Francis Negley at $50 and the widow of Rear Admiral Henry Pickens at $40. The Alaska delegate bill was also passed. It provides for the representation of the territory of Alaska in the house of representatives by a delegate, the first one to be elected next autumn, and to hold a seat in the Fifty-eighth congress.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The agricultural appropriation bill was passed in the house on Saturday. A session was held yesterday for memorial services for deceased members.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The military academy bill, carrying $644,273, was passed in the house yesterday. A resolution was adopted calling on the postmaster general for the correspondence in the Indianola (Miss.) post office case. Mr. Overstreet (Ind.) submitted the report upon the anti-trust bill. The fortifications appropriation bill, which carries $7,093,943, was reported.

Washington, Jan. 28.—In the house yesterday bills were passed making intoxicating liquors imported into states subject to the jurisdiction of such states and to prevent evasion of liquor laws in prohibition states; senate bill to increase the salaries of federal judges. It raises the salary of the chief justice of the Supreme court to $13,000, those of associate justices to $12,500, circuit judges to $7,000, district judges to $6,000, the chief justice of the court of claims to $6,500, associate justices to $6,000, and the justices of the supreme court of the District of Columbia to $6,000.

Says Howard Killed Goebel.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28.—"James B. Howard, of Clay county, fired the shot that killed William Goebel," said Henry E. Youtsey in his confession as to his part in and knowledge of the conspiracy which terminated in the assassination of the democratic claimant to the governorship.

Bank Robbed.

Waterloo, Neb., Jan. 28.—Four men robbed the Citizens' Bank of Waterloo early yesterday and escaped with $3,500 in cash. A dozen citizens opened fire, which fire was returned, but the robbers escaped.

"Don't Know How I Got Such a Cold"

Most of us have heard this expression many times.

Did you ever notice that the Don't know how I got it cold is a bad one to get over? That before you are through with the hoarseness, the cough, the "tight feeling," the general discomfort, and the out of sorts sensations, you are apt to have another such cold, and so on until it hangs on for weeks?

These colds mean that your system is out of gear. They usually precede serious diseases like consumption, bronchitis. They are dangerous.

We have found a remedy for all sorts of colds, coughs, that is not a so-called cough-cure. It does not stupefy with opium, nor fill the system with vicious drugs.

It is Vinol. We are perfectly willing to tell any inquirers at our store what it is made of and how we came to take hold of it.

It certainly does the work. Old coughs go off like magic. It even relieves people far gone in consumption. People right in town have proved it. We sell it subject to guarantee—money back if it doesn't help you. Isn't it foolish to put the matter off?

Highest Praise

SOME HOLLAND CITIZENS GROW ENTHUSIASTIC ON THE SUBJECT.

The highest praise for Holland public is hearty expression from Holland people. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed in Holland. No better proof of merit can be had. Here's a case of it. We have plenty more like it.

John Pilon, a farmer near Ebenezer, says: "I had more or less trouble for years from my kidneys and whenever I worked hard or caught a cold it always affected me and caused a heavy aching pain through the small of my back. It was very painful to stoop or to lift anything and at times the aching was so persistent I could scarcely get about my work. I used different medicines and wore plasters but they did me no good. As I had seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended for such troubles I went to J. O. Doesburg's drug store in Holland and got a box. I used them but a short time when I felt better and continuing the treatment I was cured."

FARM GARDEN

A FARM DERRICK.

Useful For Hanging Hogs or Bees and Raising Bulky Objects.

An easily constructed derrick is shown in the cut from Ohio Farmer. This kind of arrangement will be most useful in butchering, for suspending a hog for scalding or raising a beef to be dressed, and will come in handy for other purposes, as raising a bulky object a short distance when loading on a sled. Three good strong poles about fourteen feet long will do for the derrick legs, or three pieces of heavy dimension stuff may be used if more convenient. Bevel off the tops of two of the poles on one side and flatten the top of the third. Bore a hole through the tops of all three poles. Set the poles up tripod fashion and fasten at the top by a bolt. The poles should not be bolted too tight, but just so as to allow the foot of the middle pole to be moved in or out from the ground center. Connect the other two poles by a couple of iron rods or wooden crosspieces. The rods may be fitted in holes in the legs or the crosspieces attached with bolts, but in either case they should be adjustable or be attached not permanently, but to admit of being moved to adjust the pitch of the legs. The two legs thus braced rest against stakes driven in the ground, and the third leg brought toward them at the foot raises the top of the derrick. The force that the derrick will exert on a lifting rope or chain attached to its apex is increased as the movable leg is brought nearer perpendicular. The illustration shows how a rope, spreader and singletree may be used with a horse for operating the derrick. When the derrick is not in use, the rods or crosspieces may be removed, the top bolt loosened and the legs swung together, making it easy to load on a wagon for transportation somewhere else or to be stored out of the way.

FOUND AT LAST!

The Poison in Sorghum—An Entirely New Opinion.

Dr. Avery, chemist of the Nebraska station, has been investigating the sorghum poisoning of cattle. As stated in Farm and Ranch, Dr. Avery has analyzed every part of the sorghum plant and found prussic acid in leaves and stalks in dangerous quantities at certain stages of growth and in harmless minute quantities at other stages. Sorghum of normal growth, of four feet and over, contains very little and sometimes none of the poison, but the stunted growth contains it often in fatal amounts. The findings of Professor Avery indicate that the common opinion that it is second growth sorghum that kills is well founded, as those cattle eat that which not only has an abnormally high per cent of the poison, but the very parts of the plant where all the poison is stored, the leaves and stems, the stems having the greater proportion. In matured sorghum most of the stem is rejected, and the amount of poison in the parts eaten is not sufficient to do any harm. Professor Avery adds:

"If the writer may venture from the safe ground of experiment into the uncertain field of speculation, he would suggest that the presence of nitrates in the soil may facilitate the formation of prussic acid in the plants. It is well known that in semiarid sections much of the nitrogen in the soil is in the form of nitrates, while in well watered sections the greater part of the nitrogen is combined with humus. May not this fact explain why sorghum, stunted by an occasional dry season, is seldom fatal to stock in the east and that many of the most severe outbreaks occur where irrigation is practiced?"

A Good Game to Stick To.

An exchange reports Mr. J. E. Wing of Ohio as of the opinion that fat muttons will be in demand for export. "Sheep and lamb feeding is a good game to stick to, provided the feeder raises his own feed. We raise lots of alfalfa and feed it in conjunction with ear corn. Never shell the corn. At least that is our experience, and it has been a profitable one. The thin lambs are the ones to buy. The feeder gets the growth with them and will make money by not finishing them too much. Send them to market on the light side, if anything, is my policy. When buying feeding lambs, be sure to pick those with open, loose fleeces. They do better in the feed lot than close fleeced stock."

Fast Corn Shucking.

From Kansas comes the information that that state possesses the most rapid corn shucker on record, at least for Kansas. Harvey Berkley of Hamlin husked recently 115 bushels of corn in five hours. The second place in corn husking fame in that section is held by a man who husked 134 bushels in seven hours. It is generally recognized that a man who can husk 100 bushels of corn a day is considered good.

Had Not Slept for Two Weeks.

OWING TO NERVOUS TROUBLE, YET MALTA PURA CURED HER AND NOW SLEEP IS REGULAR AND HEALTHFUL.

A well known lady residing southwest of this city, says she owes her life to Malta Pura, the great tonic and invigorator manufactured by the Battle Creek Health Beverage Co., Ltd. Although this lady is 72 years of age, she is now enjoying very good health. Here is what she says unsolicitedly:

"All the folks out here know that I have been a sufferer from a nervous trouble for years. I do not know the cause of the nervousness unless it was stomach trouble, but I do know that Malta Pura cured me, and I only used four bottles. About three or four months ago, I was compelled to take to my bed owing to my condition, but I could not sleep. It seemed impossible for me to get any rest. I took a number of medicines but none of them did me any good. My husband had three different doctors consider my case, but they did not help me. It was after two weeks of sleepless nights during which time I tossed about until I felt I would never get better, that I was told by a friend of my sister that I had half of it, seemed somewhat improved for I could get little rest. I kept on taking it and after using four bottles in all, am as well as anyone could expect, my age considered. If I know of any person suffering from nervousness I shall feel it my duty to let them know what Malta Pura has done for me. I firmly believe it to be the savior of my life. I sleep well, without any after distress and consider myself as healthy as any woman of my age."

The name furnished on application to the Battle Creek Health Beverage Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Michigan. Malta Pura is for sale at Druggists.

HOG FEEDING.

Results in the Corn Belt From Packing House Byproducts.

From time to time new feeds are being placed upon the market, each of which is claimed by its manufacturers to possess much merit. During the past year perhaps no one line of these new products has attracted so wide attention as the byproducts of the packing houses, such as tankage, dried blood, beef meal, etc. For many years the blood, scraps of meat, etc., from which these products are manufactured were a total loss to the packer. For a long time their disposal added much to the running expenses of the firm. Recognizing the fact that they contained a large amount of nitrogen and mineral matter so valuable from a fertility standpoint, a new field for their disposal was opened up, and they were placed upon the market in the form of fertilizers. The farmer of the middle west has never taken kindly to the use of fertilizers. Thus the only market for them was in the eastern and southern states. To secure the patronage of the corn belt farmers the packing house man appeals to him in a new way by furnishing a food product, not a fertilizer, which contains anywhere from two to four times as much protein as any feed which can be produced upon the farm.

Tankage.

Tankage is made from meat scraps, fat trimmings and scrap bones. These are taken up as fast as taken from the animals and put into a large steel tank and cooked under a live steam pressure of forty pounds to the square inch, which cooks out the tallow. After the steam is turned off it is allowed to settle, when the grease rises to the top and is drawn off. After the grease is drawn off the tankage is kept agitated, and by evaporation the water is extracted until the tankage contains about 8 per cent moisture. It is then taken out of the tank, allowed to cool, is ground and stored ready for shipment. This tankage is supposed to contain about 60 per cent protein and 10 per cent of fat.

Bone meal.

Bone meal product is made from scraps of meat and bone from which the grease has been extracted and the liquors concentrated by cooking. These are then pressed, dried and ground in preparation for the market. It is claimed to contain 40 per cent to 50 per cent of protein.

Results From Packing House Feeds.
The Iowa station, authority for the foregoing, has been making tests of the packing house feeds, and it finds that a ration consisting of five parts corn and one part tankage yielded over 34 per cent greater net profits than a ration of corn alone.

Using another brand of tankage, a ration consisting of five parts corn and one part tankage yielded over 7 per cent greater net profits than a ration of corn alone.

A ration consisting of five parts corn and one part beef meal yielded over 22 per cent greater net profits than a ration of corn alone.

A ration of corn and a "stock food" yielded over 10 per cent greater net profit than a ration of corn alone.

Quince Trees.

Cold winters do not injure quince trees if their roots, which grow very near the surface of the ground, are covered late in the fall with straw manure. This mulch should be three or four inches thick and extend around the tree as far as the branches spread. The borers, which enter the tree near the surface of the ground, must be watched. However, if trees are kept perfectly free from weeds, as they should be, borers are not often found.—Exchange.

Footproof Pig Trough.

An Ohio Farmer correspondent has had the hog trough here sketched in successful use for some time. Pigs cannot get their feet into it and cannot get in the way when pouring in slop. The height, E, H, is 2 feet; F, H, 1 foot.

A GOOD PIG TROUGH.

foot; width of opening at B, 2 inches; C, D, 6 inches; D, E, 8 inches. Slop is poured in at A and runs down through the two inch opening into the trough, the rear side of which slopes forward so that the pigs can reach all the slop in bottom of trough.

Live Thoughts.

Some men are always behindhand in their work. Be the season long or short, fair or stormy, they are constantly racing with Father Time.

Neither man nor his land will improve by lying idle.

Every farmer ought to be a plant breeder as well as a live stock breeder. There is as much room for improvement in the former as the latter.

A field turned out to rest is like a human loafer—if it is not kept busy raising a crop, it is sure to get into mischief by growing weeds.

Plenty of alfalfa means fat cattle, fat horses, fat hogs, fat sheep and fat poultry, and these fat things make fat purses.

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

General Items.

Once upon a time a man got mad at the editor and stopped his paper. The next week he sold his paper. The next week he sold his corn for four cents below the market price. Then his property was sold for taxes because he didn't read the treasurer's sale. He was arrested and fined $8 for going hunting on Sunday, simply because he didn't know it was Sunday, and paid $300 for a lot of forged notes that had been advertised two weeks and the public cautioned not to negotiate them. He then paid a big Irishman with a foot l like a forged hammer to kick him all the way to the newspaper office when he paid four years in advance and made the editor sign an agreement to knock him down and rob him if he ever ordered his paper stopped again.

According to an item which appeared in the Missouri Valley (Iowa) Times, the Post antiseptic paper coast is meeting with much favor in that locality. The article referred to states that the company at that place receive orders for five or more caskets each day, and recently received an order for twenty-two. The company has been organized but a short time. The business far exceeds the anticipations of its promoters, and a new building will have to be erected.

The ordinary "card of thanks" in a newspaper is bad enough, but when someone who isn't on speaking terms with the language starts out to write one the result is far worse. Just look at this one recently printed in a Calhoun county paper: "We desire to return our thanks to our neighbors who assisted us in the death of our father" followed by the signatures of the family.

The editor of a neighboring paper in writing the obituary notice of one of the citizens of his town used the expression: "He has gone to that undiscovered country from whose bourn no traveler returns," but the intelligent compositor made him say "burn." The editor has been horse-whipped by the widow and has a slander suit to defend.

Menominee's city farmers desired to remove the pesthouse from its present site to a more secluded spot, but not a contractor in town would tackle the job, for fear of running against small-pox germs about the building. Consequently a new pesthouse will be built.

Peter Cosse, of Grand Rapids is very proud of the fact that he has succeeded in writing the whole of President Roosevelt's message, nearly 20,000 words on the back of an ordinary postal card. Now will he kindly explain how the world or anyone in it, has been benefitted by the feat and why it wouldn't have been far better to use the mental and physical effort necessary for the performance in the conversion, for instance, of a couple of cords of four-foot wood into sticks suitable for use in his cookstove.

Shattered Dignity.

The crude humor that makes the small boy want to throw a snowball at a silk hat on a man bristling with dignity is not to be disposed of as a mere ill conceived prank of youth. There is deep in most people a spring of unassuageable humor that leaps gleefully when conscious dignity gets a fair tumble. That is why, for all the solemnity of the place, the soberest charity and the best bred propriety in the world could not prevent a titter at a little farce that happened once in a church in Brooklyn.

A gentleman and his wife, who were offended at something the preacher said, gravely rose and stalked toward the door, with their heads held high in assertive disdain. The wife followed the husband.

Unfortunately when they were half way down the aisle the husband dropped his glove and stooped to pick it up. Fate, the humorist, determined that the wife should keep her head so high that she did not see her husband stoop. She went sailing on and stumbled over him in riotous confusion.

The congregation held its breath and kept its composure. The two recovered themselves and went on. Hoping to escape quickly they turned to what looked like a side door. The husband pulled it open with an impressive swing. Before he could close it out tumbled the window pole, a long duster and a stepladder. The congregation could hold its mirth no longer, and man and wife fled to the real exit in undignified haste amid a general and pervasive snicker.

Mr. Wright Tells About the Indians.

Last Monday afternoon a large audience gathered in Hope church to hear Mr. Wright tell in his interesting and instructive manner the conditions of the missions carried on in Oklahoma. The narrative of this mission field was made the more vivid by the personal experience which Mr. Wright has had in this part of his work.

In Oklahoma there are eight tribes of Indians of whom about 60,000 are civilized. The Chawtaws, who came from Mississippi in 1835 brought their own missionaries, and are very religious. In the eastern part of Oklahoma there are 12,000 full blood Indians of whom nearly two-thirds have become earnest and sincere church members through the influence of missions.

The first church among the Indians was built by the Woman's Executive committee. This committee appointed Mr. Wright as mission worker in this field. At first the work was very trying and many hardships had to be endured. The language is difficult to learn. There are 8 dialects and each one is much different from the other. There are as many as 30,000 variations of one word. Most of the preaching must be carried on by means of signs. Churches are from 15 to 25 miles apart and roads are almost impassible. A guide is necessary to lead the way.

At some places the medicine men forbade the Indians to attend church. These medicine men would say that one could live in sin and still be religious. "There are only two ways," said Mr. Wright, "by which we can reach them, and that is by patience and love. It takes a long time to learn this patience and to love the Indians; but with trust in the Lord we win."

The change among the Indians since the preaching of the gospel is very great. Now men go to work and properly support families. Where formerly a husband was cruel to his wife and children he is now a kind and loving father.

The children also come under the influence of the gospel. Many a child has led its parents to Christ. The heart of an Indian is tender as Mr. Wright illustrated with the following story. A child regularly came to the meeting and seemed to enjoy them. She became sick, however, and told her parents she was on the "Jesus-road." The father dearly loving his child, wanted to go with her. He went to the missionary and said there could be no two roads in his family. If Dorothy, his child, went the "Jesus-road" he would also travel that road.

Hope College News.

The "A" class are sporting with their new class pins.

Rev. Mr. Wright addressed the College prayer meeting last Tuesday evening. His presence invited all the members to the meeting.

Prof. Mast is giving a special course of physical training to the students of the Preparatory Department.

Messrs. Geo. Hankamp and Richard Boter spent Sunday in Grand Rapids.

A number of students are on the sick list.

The players who are to form the Basket Ball team have not been selected. A manager and a captain however, have been chosen. The men who look for a position on the team have had constant training and are in an excellent condition.

On Thursday, the day of prayer for Colleges, the regular exercises were suspended. At two o'clock in the afternoon a large audience gathered in the chapel to listen to addresses from Dr. Kollen and missionaries Oltman and Wright.

Dr. Kollen omitted the statistics that are usually given because they are but cold figures. The actual conditions of religious life must be experienced. "The object of this day of prayer," said the doctor, "is that the power of young people which is soon to be felt in the world may be sanctified, controlled and directed, through grace, by the spirit to the glory of God."

Dr. Oltmans showed how a man's character must be consecrated, Christ-like character. Our character must be first Christ-like, that is bearing the true image of God stamped upon us through vital union with the Lord Jesus Christ. Our characters must also be consecrated, given over into the hands of God for service to our fellow-men. Then a broad field of activity lies before us in which we must make ourselves useful.

Mr. Wright after singing the inspiring song, "Loyalty to Christ," pointed out the conflict which young people must endure in this life. The lusts of the flesh, vain glories of life and rash self confidence are daily dragging many from the avenues of virtue. In order to overcome all evils and do the work of Christ our hearts must be cleansed with the blood of Christ.

Indian Relics.

A box of Indian curios and useful articles was received by Henry Van der Ploeg this week from Rev. Peter J. Marsille, who is engaged in missionary work among the Indians at Colony, Oklahoma. These articles include a belt of gray buck with small chatelaine pouch, half beaded and edged with beads. Also several chatelaine purses, watch fobs, etc. All these articles are genuine Indian made and were made by the Cheyenne, Arapahoe and Apache Indians at Mohonk Lodge, Colony, Oklahoma. This is a philanthropic and unsectarian institution, having as its object the uplifting of the Red man. Through its industrial department it provides a self-supporting industry to the women and old men, through the revival of their ancient arts of bead-work and bow-making.

The Cheyenne and Arapahoe women do not use the needle and thread, but work with an awl and the fibrous sinew taken from the back of a cow or pony. The work is very durable. The Apache work is done by Geronimo's band of captive Apaches, held as prisoners of war at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. All the designs of the various tribes are symbolic but it is exceedingly difficult to discover their meanings as the Indians are very secretive about them.

These articles can be seen in the show window of Henry Vander Ploeg's bookstore, 44 East Eighth street, and are on sale. Whatever is made on them will go to the support and education of the Indians, the Mohonk Lodge being a purely philanthropic institution.

Additional Local.

Drs. Baker & Imus have moved their office to 75 E. Ninth street.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church is in correspondence with the Jubilee singers who will give an entertainment in the church auditorium in the near future.

Mrs. M. Morrison of Detroit, and Mrs. C. Byrne of Grand Rapids, who have been visiting with Mrs. Ryder returned to their homes today.

Don't forget to attend John Vander sluis' sale next Monday. Beautiful line of Seersucker, Gingham for 64 cents. Also a special sale on Muslin underwear, nightgowns from 29 cents up. Entire stock must be closed out.

Next Sunday morning communion services, celebrating the Lord's supper will be held in the M. E. church. In the evening Mr. Trot will give a special service for young men, delivering an address on the subject, "True Strength."

Next Wednesday evening the citizens are requested to meet in De Grondwet hall to take up the matter of providing ways and means for the construction of a new opera house. Several citizens who have propositions for an opera house would like to place them before the citizens. Consideration of these plans will be taken up Monday evening. All who can are urgently requested to attend.

Representative Van Zoeren of Kent county has introduced a bill in the state house of representatives which is aimed at the marriage business for which St. Joe has become noted. If it passes it will also effect the marriage license business, coming from Milwaukee to this country which has been growing. The bill provides that all non residents shall secure a license five days before the marriage takes place, and that no license shall be issued upon Sunday.

H. B. Babbitt, superintendent of the Fremont canning company, and who also assumed management for some time of the Zealand canning company sold $500 stock of the Zealand company to Geo. Bode of Fremont. The Zealand company, however, refuses to transfer the stock from Babbitt to Bode in their books on the ground that Babbitt is indebted to the Zealand company. Babbitt has employed Attorney Souwe and Heck to request the circuit court to issue a mandamus compelling the Zealand company to transfer the stock. Mr. Bode holds a certificate indicating a transfer but can draw no dividend as long as stocks are not transferred in the books. Bode says that the company has made him a proposition to sell his stock at a reduction giving as a reason that only Zealand men are wanted in the company.

The talk about a state normal school for Holland is not dead though the prospects for a favorable report from the educational committee on the bill providing for a state normal school for Western Michigan is not bright. The chairman of the committee is a Lenawee man and all the other members are from the eastern or northern parts of the state. None have any interest in the measure and all are said to look upon the bill as a scheme to give some city in Western Michigan a state institution. There is no foundation for a prevailing suspicion that the educational committee was selected for the purpose of killing the measure in the committee room. Representative Vandercook introduced the bill in the house and Senator Kelly in the senate and consequently the rumormongers that Grand Rapids and Muskegon are the principal contestants, although Holland, Decatur and Allegan are in the race. The bill has not yet been given full consideration by the house committee, but there is good reason for believing that every member is opposed to it. On the senate educational committee there is not a Western Michigan man.

A. I. KRAMER,

40 East Eighth St.

Holland.

Prof. J. W. Beardslee preached at the installation services of Rev. N. Boer, who was installed as pastor of the Bethany Reformed, church of Grand Rapids.

With the coming of spring Centennial park will be a prettier spot than ever before. Every alternate tree will be removed giving the remaining sky climbers an opportunity to spread their branches. At the same time the soil will be left richer for the grass and the sun will be able to reach the flowers. Sixty days earlier than last year, provided the weather is favorable, the plants will show forth their blossoms, and the air will be laden with their fragrance. This early season will be attributed to the care of Superintendent Kooyers who has already begun to plant the flower seeds in the greenhouses, while last year the seeds were planted directly in the park beds. A large line of clematis vines and tuberous begonias has been selected by the park board. It will be remembered how much the begonias added to last year's beauty of the park. Under the skillful management of Superintendent Kooyers and the other members of the park board. Centennial park will exceed the splendor it possessed last year and during the coming summer it will be a richer ornament to our city.

Crescent Hive, L. O. T. M. publicly installed the following officers last Tuesday evening:

Lady Commander—Mrs. Sarah McClain.
Lieutenant Commander—Mrs. Francis Anderson.
Record Keeper—Miss Beulah Smith.
Finance Keeper—Mrs. Lucy Wise.
Chaplain—Mrs. Jennie Haight.
Past Commander—Mrs. Jane Higgins.
Sergeant—Mrs. Hattie Barnard.
Mistress-at-Arms—Mrs. John De Boer.

Sentinel—Mrs. Katie Bosch.
Picket—Mrs. Cora Johnson.
Janitor—Mrs. Vanden Berg.
Pianist—Miss Owedla Olsen.
Hive physicians—Mrs. J. A. Mabbs and H. L. Imus. Miss Eva Anderson, the installation officer, with happy and appropriate remarks in behalf of the ladies, presented Mrs. Sarah McClain with a handsome quarter-sawed oak rocker. Miss Anderson received a beautiful bouquet of carnations and roses. An excellent supper, prepared by the ladies, was served to a large number of people.

"Don't Know How I Got Such a Cold"

Most of us have heard this expression many times.

Did you ever notice that the Don't know how I got it cold is a bad one to get over? That before you are through with the hoarseness, the cough, the "tight feeling," the general discomfort, and the out of sorts sensations, you are apt to have another such cold, and so on until it hangs on for weeks?

These colds mean that your system is out of gear. They usually precede serious diseases like consumption, bronchitis. They are dangerous.

We have found a remedy for all sorts of colds, coughs, that is not a so-called cough-cure. It does not stupefy with opium, nor fill the system with vicious drugs.

It is Vinol. We are perfectly willing to tell any inquirers at our store what it is made of and how we came to take hold of it.

It certainly does the work. Old coughs go off like magic. It even relieves people far gone in consumption. People right in town have proved it. We sell it subject to guarantee—money back if it doesn't help you. Isn't it foolish to put the matter off?

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, } ss. COUNTY OF OTTAWA, }

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Ottawa, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Grand Haven in said county on Thursday the 29th day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred and three.

Present, EDWARD P. KIRBY, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Katharina N. Krulings, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition duly verified of Isaac Marsille, executor named in said will praying for the probate of an instrument in writing filed in this court purporting to be the last will and testament of the said Katharina N. Krulings, deceased and that the administration of said estate may be granted to himself, Isaac Marsille, or some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is Ordered, That Tuesday, the Twenty-fourth day of February next at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased and all other persons interested in said estate are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted: And it is further Ordered, That said petitioners give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof by causing a copy of this order to be published in the HOLLAND CITY NEWS a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Ottawa for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.
